

EARLY CLASS at Central school when building was first opened in 1924 "marched in to music rendered by Mrs. Dora Meek upon a beautiful new Aldrich piano—first payment being made with funds secured last year by operetta given by the schools. Additional $25 was donated by the PTA." Photo, belonging to Donald Knapp, Camas, was brought to school by his daughter, Libbie, student in Eleanor McCallum's sixth grade class. "Farewell to Central" PTA meeting recently numbered many former students and teachers among the audience, including Bertha H. Trutton who taught at Central when it opened in 1924. Are you in this picture?
